

Special Christmas Newsletter

As a one-off, we're sending a second newsletter this winter because we're just so excited about our amazing new Handbook that has just launched!

It's an accessible manual about how to farm for nature with the most up to date scientific research and backed up by real-life examples from our Farming for Nature Ambassadors.

This book was prompted by the regular requests we received here at Farming For Nature from people wanting to learn how best to manage their land, big or small, in a way that enhances habitats, increases wildlife, harnesses natural processes, protects profits, and safeguards our natural environment and rural communities for future generations.

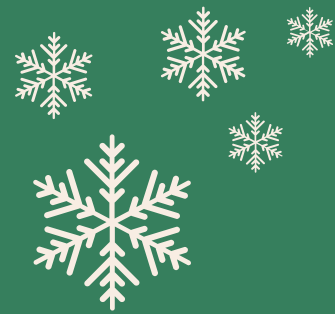

THIS PUBLICATION WOULDN'T HAVE BEEN POSSIBLE WITHOUT OUR FUNDERS:

the Department of Agriculture, Food & the Marine, the National Parks & Wildlife Service and the Life2good Foundation

Publishing Champions - Bread41, Ballymaloe Cookery School and Ballymaloe Foods

Our dual launch events couldn't have happened without Killruddery, Tindal Wine Merchants, Wicklow Wolf, Bread41 and Charlie Byrne's bookshop.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Dr. Emma Hart

A conservation ecologist and writer, Emma combines her scientific expertise with practical action at the Oysterhaven Biodiversity Reserve in South Ireland. With a PhD in ecology and a career spanning international conservation, Emma's ability to blend science and storytelling shines on every page.

Brigid Barry

Brigid's 25+ years of working at the crossroads of people and nature are the backbone of this handbook. Co-founder of Farming for Nature and with farming roots in Cork.

Dr. Brendan Dunford

An innovator in rural sustainability, Brendan has pioneered projects like BurrenLIFE and co-founded Farming for Nature. His leadership has connected farmers and communities with their landscapes in transformative ways.

The book also has fifty other co-authors! Fifty Farming for Nature Ambassadors contributed their hard-earned wisdom for how best to farm for nature.

5 STAR REVIEWS ★★★★★

They've been queuing up to write reviews for this Handbook!

From Cabinet ministers to President Michael D himself, this book has been described as 'essential reading'. Get yours today!

TAKE ACTION FOR NATURE

More and more business owners like Fionnuala from Killruddery and Eoin from Bread 41 (pictured left) are supporting Farming for Nature in our mission to help improve the health of the countryside.

Businesses and individuals alike can now help us achieve this mission. For more information click below

Sheila Santos

Social Media and Content Creator

Brigid Barry

Project Manager

Brendan Dunford

Creative Director

Sarah Coonan

Network and Outreach Officer

Lydia Lishman

Fundraising and Strategy

All the team here at Farming for Nature would like to wish our Ambassadors, supporters, funders and colleagues a very happy festive period and a prosperous and peaceful New Year! See you in 2025.